Feeling overwhelmed and unorganized?
Hi, I'm Pam.

I created Life, Creatively Organized to help women who are struggling with feeling unorganized and overwhelmed with all they have to do.

I've been there.

I struggled with juggling my career as a librarian while raising 3 kids, trying to keep my house functional, fitting in DIY projects and living a crazy busy life on a budget.

Over time, I found ways to better manage my time and my home. I became a professional organizer in 2014 so I could help other women feel less stressed by getting and staying organized.

And that's what I want for YOU!

Here at Life, Creatively Organized I'll show you ways to get organized inexpensively, as well as fun and easy DIY projects and delicious family-friendly meals, all so you can live life more joyfully.
